10 Christmas Canata

Jesus talked about money. Jesus talked about money a lot. He taught about money. He warned about the love of money. He used money. He observed people in the temple giving money.

Yes, Jesus did not shy away from the topic of possessions and finances. It was a difficult topic for his first century listeners—and one we still struggle with today—but Jesus approached it head on. He offered practical advice with theological understanding. Jesus did not want money to consume us, to be the driver of our decision-making, and Jesus did want us to learn how to use money to do God's work in the world.

Look at the Gospel of Matthew. Here are just a few verses about money.

“Give to the one who asks you, and do not turn away from the one who wants to borrow from you.”—

Matthew 5:42

“Thus, when you give to the needy, sound no trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised by others. Truly, I say to you, they have received their reward.”—

Matthew 6:2

“Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal, but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.”—

Matthew 6:19–21

Such good guidelines offered by Jesus Christ, in just a few chapters! There are many more. It is a theme.

Yet today's daily reality seems to look much different for Christians and non-Christians alike.

Not a day goes by that I don't hear someone concerned about money. Some worry how to spend their money. Some worry how to save money. Some wonder if their savings will be enough. Some have no ability to save or spend. The office gets calls from those who say they need money—for rent, for groceries, for gas—all the time. Undoubtedly somewhere, at the proverbial “water cooler” or in a lunch room or in a cozy living room, someone is talking about bills or the price of gas or whether or not healthcare premiums will go up for 2020. The election season is usually consumed by money too—who votes to spend on this-or-that, who has a fundraiser in Minnesota, who wants to raise taxes and who promises to lower taxes. And on, and on, and on. Money has dominance in our culture.

Even though our tender says, “In God we trust” on it, do we? ... really?

Do we give when asked?

Are we generous? And are we generous, glad and quiet in our giving?

Where are our treasures,... really?

How are we using our money? Will this bring God's kingdom into being? Will this make God's kingdom more real for someone else? ...maybe even someone we have not met yet, and maybe never will? Will others come to know Jesus because of our generosity?

These are personal and communal questions we should ask. These are individual and congregational questions we need to answer, for the present and for the future.

A portion of my time lately has been reviewing our congregation's financial health, looking at giving dollars and asking questions. Others are more actively assessing the data and making projections. For example, the finance committee and council reviews the financials, the collected amounts and the expenditures monthly. Soon budgets will be set for 2020. Money is a matter of the church too.

In the next few weeks, emails and info will be sent out, and you will be invited to consider your monetary giving to your church for 2020. Our “Stewardship Sundays” will be November 17 and 24, and pledges will continue to be received throughout December.

Of course, members don't have to pledge to give, but pledging is helpful when budgeting and planning for future and present opportunities. “Pledging” is like the promise of monetary gifts to come. It is not an immediate check written or debit made, but rather a commitment to do so in a certain time frame.

President's Update

Greetings Members of Trinity,

Let me give a shout out to everyone who helped with Fall Clean-Up—and those who tried, but the weather did not cooperate on that first Saturday. (We still love Minnesota.) Thank you all for your efforts.

We had our Special Congregational Meeting on Sunday October 27 immediately following the service. There were two items for members to discuss and vote on. One was to clarify the definition of “written communication” and make clear that written communication does not have to be done only by postal service—it can be in a newsletter, email, text, bulletin and or any other form of written communication. This proposal passed with over 97% of the vote. The second proposal was to change our constitution so that the congregational quorum required not to be a specific number of a minimum of 75 members; but changed to 20% of the average Sunday attendance for the past 12 months. This vote passed by over 98%. Thank you to so many for attending the quick, yet important, special congregational meeting.

Marc Jacobson

Please put January 26 on your calendar for the annual meeting. All voting members are encouraged to attend.

We will be looking for 3 people to join the Church Council in February, so please keep that in mind as we come to the end of the year. The Council meets once per month, so the on-site commitment of time is rather minimal. The council has a leadership role into the direction of the congregation and visioning, as well as leadership for and oversight of a number of operational and organizational items. If you have any questions or would like to join the Council please see me at church, or I can be reached at 320-266-0509. God bless, Marc

Staff Retirement Announcement

Come celebrate Ellen Bjorlie, our long-time office manager and jill-of-all-trades! Having given 23 years of dedication and service to Trinity Lutheran Church, Ellen announced her retirement and gave her notice on November 4, 2019. Always considerate, and knowing well the extra work at Christmas-time and year-end, Ellen will continue her employment through the end of 2019—although she does plan to take some vacation, and visit her beloved grandbaby “out west” over Christmas.

Ellen will be greatly missed in the office. Her smile is contagious and her stories are legendary. Her institutional knowledge is unmatched.

Ellen is not “going anywhere” (her words); she will still be around at Trinity, volunteering for this-or-that and worshipping weekly. There is always plenty to be involved with at Trinity, and now she will have the opportunity to pick-and-choose. What will year number 78 bring?!

A “Happy Retirement!” Party is planned for Sunday, December 15 after the Sunday School Christmas program during worship. Please plan on attending, to thank Ellen for her many years of service, and converse about what’s next for her! A card box will be available. Maybe those who are retired can share advice and tips with Ellen.

Ellen has worked at Trinity from 1978-1981 and then 1999-2019. She also worked at Johnson’s Department Store in Monticello and Maus Foods in Monticello, in her varied career. She has been a member since 1976.

After our current office needs are reviewed, and job description(s) updated, the position will be advertised.

Pray for Teachers & Children

Teaching the next generation is a privilege and a responsibility. There are joyous moments and frustrating moments. Not everyone can teach, but everyone can pray! Will you please pray for our Sunday School children and teachers each week?

Heavenly Father, Bless the children of Trinity Lutheran Church. Help them to understand the depth of your love. Fill them with your grace and wisdom so that they may grow to be strong men and women who fear your name and live for your glory. Grant the Sunday School teachers your wisdom and knowledge that they may also share it with the children and help them to grow spiritually. Lord, we thank you for the many blessings you have showered upon our Sunday School program and we pray that Your Spirit may continue to work through the children and teachers as they continue to glorify you. Amen.

Sunday School is off to a great start

Currently 20 children come and spend their Sunday mornings learning about Jesus and the Bible in Sunday School! Starting in the sanctuary immediately after the worship service, children have been learning new songs to share with the congregation throughout the year. We love Karen Torbit's enthusiasm as she teaches us lyrics, actions and even handbell playing. We are thankful for Amy Klatt who accompanies us on the piano.

After music practice, students head downstairs to the Sunday School rooms to have a snack and learn the weekly lesson. Our program uses Augsburg Fortress' Spark Classroom curriculum, which is a two year rotation of some of the most important and meaningful Bible Stories. The children have learned about creation and Noah's Ark and will soon be learning about David and Goliath and Jonah. We end each Sunday morning as a large group where we have been working on learning the meaning of and memorizing the Lord's Prayer. We will also be learning about the Ten Commandments soon.

We have a lot of fun in Sunday School. Your children are encouraged to bring a friend on Sunday morning so they can also experience the love and works of God!

Meet the dedicated teachers of our Sunday School

We are so fortunate to have a very seasoned and faithful group of Sunday School teachers at Trinity. Cortney Mongeon and Elle Koecheler (pictured), who teach the preschool and kindergarten class, have been attending Trinity their whole lives. They were both baptized and confirmed at Trinity and have been teaching Sunday School ever since. The littlest Sunday School children are always eager to see Cortney and Elle each week! Tanya Horst teaches our first, second and third graders. Tanya was also raised at Trinity - in fact, her great grandparents were part of the group that founded the church! Tanya was confirmed and married at Trinity, and her sons are 5th generation members. Linda Elstad, who teaches fourth, fifth and sixth grade, has attended Trinity since her parents joined the church in 1979. Linda was married at Trinity and her sons were both baptized and confirmed in the church. She now spends her Sunday mornings with her grandson who is in the preschool class. We are so thankful for Linda who also spends countless hours making sure Trinity's kids have a offering outside of Sunday School where they can have fun and grow in faith. This program is called God's Angels. Watch the calendar for future events! Annie Savage is the Sunday School coordinator. She has also attended Trinity her whole life and her three children are 4th generation members of the church. Thank you teachers!

CONFIRMATION SERVICE NIGHT

At the end of October, students worked on various projects during the Confirmation hour—everything from folding boxes for Operation Christmas Child, to blowing leaves off sidewalks for Trinity, to making cat toys and pet beds for the Humane Society. Our adult mentors helped too. Giving of time, talent, and energy is living into God's call to serve the neighbor.

Students chose which project(s) fit their personality and passion, and—usually in pairs—were "sent out" just like Jesus' disciples. Pictures of the evening are scattered throughout this newsletter. One project was utilized for worship, as a few youth arranged repurposed candles in sand for the All Saints remembrance lighting on November 3. See below.

Trinity Youth—A Variety of Gifts, But the Same Spirit

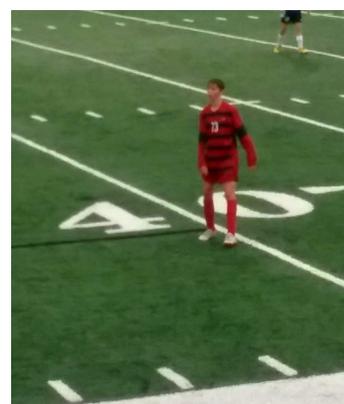

Confirmation meets on Wednesday, but there are other important meets going on other days of the week, including swim meets!

Everyone has been blessed by God with certain abilities and gifts. Adults tend to draw on these gifts in their employment—that is the idea of vocation—called to serve all God’s people using the unique skills and yearnings as God gives. People often choose careers based on these passions, skills, and traits. Teens and young adults have jobs too, but usually for income. Teens display their God-given talents on the ballfield, on the stage, in the art room, in the pool, in the classroom, etc.

Using their gifts in this way, our teens witness to the goodness of God. When they exhibit good sportsmanship, teamwork, and ethical competitiveness, they live into the calling of all Christians—to serve the neighbor and make the world a better place. Real witness is lived.

Spotted some of our Confirmation students doing just that. Check out the pics of our youth in action.

Interested in showing support for our teens? Go to mississippi8.org, select Monticello (or Big Lake, or...), find the schedule of events, and show up to cheer!

“Lord, When Did We See You Hungry, and Give You Something to Eat?”

In early October, as part of Global Missions weekend, a number of Trinity members spent their lunchtime, on a Saturday, packing meals for hungry kids in Haiti. Because of Trinity participants and the others present, 53 kids will be fed for a year by the meals packed that two-hour shift. Karen Torbit made the great arrangements for our whole congregation. Confirmation students were invited to earn service hours too. As each box was filled, the Trinity crew shouted, “#5 to keep kids alive! Number [x].”

CHRISTMAS CANTATA 2019

This year, Trinity Lutheran will present a musical Christmas Cantata on December 8 at 2:00 pm, and on December 22 within the 9:00 am Sunday worship service. A Cantata (from the Italian “cantare” which means “to sing”) is a collection of songs with instrumental support. It’s not an opera. There is no drama, no acting, no special costumes etc. It’s simply a collection of songs and narratives (about 40 minutes) that are centered on a particular aspect of the Christmas story. St. Paul wrote, “there are three things that last: faith, hope, and love.” This year’s Cantata is centered on the second lasting thing: HOPE. A line from one of the songs gives the ground for Christian hope—“Jesus came from the darkness of the womb. Jesus came from the darkness of the tomb. That how we know: the desert will bloom.”

This is the fourth cantata recently offered at Trinity Lutheran. The last three Cantatas were titled “Prepare Ye The Way,” “Story Time,” and “How Christmas Came To Be.” This year’s Cantata is titled “Christmas Women; Christmas Hope.”

Originally the idea for a Cantata from a church in Princeton, Minnesota, that coincidentally carries the same name as ours: “Trinity Lutheran.” A former Princeton pastor was troubled because he felt that the commercial world had “stolen” Christmas from the church. He wasn’t against Jingle Bells or Rudolf. He just felt that the true meaning of Christmas had been high jacked and a correction was needed. Hence, the Cantata – a chance for people to be quiet and reflect on the true meaning of Christmas. Trinity has opened its doors and hearts to the whole community. People from many other church communities have come to the afternoon presentation and have stayed for the treats that Trinity provided. Invite your friends! It’s Christmas at its best.

Practices are starting now. You are invited and very welcome to be part of the choir for this event. Practices are on Thursday evenings, in the worship space, at 6:00 pm.

Feeling S.A.D.?

Seasonal Affective Disorder

It IS A Real Thing! It does affect a lot of people. Maybe you.

As the days shorten and there is less sunlight, our mood can actually be affected—it might be more than just a winter “funk”. Recognize it. Name it. Help yourself. Help others who might be suffering.

What can you do?

Buy a Happy Light (light therapy box), take Vitamin D, seek professional help, talk with a friend, get out of the house, see your doctor about medication, visit a chiropractor or get a massage, drink lots of water, enjoy regular exercise, take a vacation if you can afford it and you have the time -- even a few days in the sun helps! Try a combination of methods. Listen to yourself. Talk with others. Taking care of your emotional self is as important as brushing your teeth or feeding yourself. Self-care is provided for you, by you — it is and absolutely necessary!

LOST BOOKS?

Men's Group
1st & 3rd Mondays—Church Library

Archeologists and scholars make discoveries all the time. They have turned up everything from the Dead Sea Scrolls (1940s and 50s) to the well-preserved Egyptian mummies just last month (October 2019). Sometimes these discoveries include ancient writings—including letters and writings similar to those in our Bible.

Many manuscripts were written in Biblical times and in the early centuries after the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Some include references to Jesus and others seem to be specifically written about Jesus and his followers.

Ever wondered why some ancient texts were intentionally excluded from the Bible? Ever wondered what criteria those third and fourth century religious leaders used to determine “the canon”—the specific set of authoritative books—to compile our current Bible?

The Men's Group is following the videos and study material for Lost Books? a study by The Lutheran Hour. Join in the exploration—first and third Mondays.

Making a Difference in Namibia Africa

"Therefore go and make disciples of all nations." Matthew 28:19 NIV

In May I had the privilege of visiting Namibia on a Vision Trip with OCC. The sights, sounds, and smells are forever etched in my mind. We participated in 5 "Outreach" events (distributions) and attended one class of "The Greatest Journey," the 12 lesson discipleship course children are invited to attend after receiving a shoebox. The events were very different in many ways. The locations ranged from an urban setting to a very remote rural area. The level of affluence varied even more than the locations. We attended an event where the children were very well dressed and others where they had no shoes, running water, and electricity. In all these things there were a few common sights, the gospel being shared and contentment. Every child, and the many adults who stayed during the events, heard the Good News of Jesus as it was shared through a simple program geared to children. The children were also very content in their situation. They did not know when they came to an event that they would receive a shoebox. The boxes are not displayed until after the ministry partner shares the message. Once they see the boxes there is an air of joy, even before opening them. The screams once boxes are opened is loud and the looks on their faces are worth every moment I spend volunteering with OCC. Each child has a different favorite item and a personal letter or note is extremely cherished. Many children gave their hearts to Jesus and plan to attend "The Greatest Journey" classes. Every shoebox really does have the chance to impact the life of a child for eternity. Making disciples of ALL nations, one shoebox at a time.

The 2019 4th Annual Chili Cook-Off was a great success!

Coming together on Wednesday evening, Oct. 25, Trinity's church family raised $317 for Social Ministry's pet project "Operation Christmas Child". Approximately 75 people attended and chowed down on nine different varieties of chili, along with corn bread and desserts. Nobody left hungry.

Thank you to all who entered. Congratulations to this year's winners—Debbie Domke, Naomi Koechler and Linda Ray! Karen Torbit won for People's choice. Our esteemed judges were none other than Will Savage, Steve Torbit and Gary Nelson.

Trinity's chili cook-off is the brain-child of the Kjellberg women and totally supported by our social ministry committee. They run the event like a well-oiled machine while the committee cranks the levers. It takes the whole group to make it work.

The proceeds from this fun event go toward the shoeboxes that are sent around the world to needy children. Social Ministry works on this project year-round collecting wash cloths, bar soap, toothbrushes, toys, school supplies, Beanie Babies and other small items that fit in a shoebox.

After the shoeboxes are packed (this year Nov. 17) and put in cartons, they are driven over to Electro Industries in Monticello which is the central collection point for this area. Steve Ray and Tom Sipe provide the muscle and transportation for that step. The cartons are then shipped overseas to areas in need—as decided on by the national Operation Christmas Child. If we all do a small part in this endeavor, and others do their part, millions of children will receive a box this year, and hopefully feel the love of Jesus.

Thank you to those who attended the chili feed, donated ingredients, and to those who provide products for the shoeboxes all year.
